The Startup Ecosystem in Poland is developing at a Satisfying Pace. Innovative Hubs and Programmes supporting Young Tech Companies are being created. But International Conferences also contribute to the Success.

* Favourable Conditions for Development

Wolves Summit, an International Conference for Startups, Investors, and Corporate Representatives is taking place on 9-11th April, 2018 in Warsaw, Poland for the Seventh Time.

Among the Attendees there will be 400 Startups, 300 Investors, and 450 Corporates from over 60 Countries around the World. Previous Editions of the Event prove that there's a Huge Demand for Meetings at an International Level and Talks on Innovations in Technology. Warsaw is a City, which grows in Power compared to other European Tech Hubs. Coworking Spaces, Incubation and Acceleration Programmes, Global Corporations based in the Capital, Public and Private Funds that support Financially and by Mentoring, High-Skilled IT Professionals - these are only a few of the Facilities waiting for Companies who decide to visit the City.

* New Technologies in Poland

Development of the Startup Ecosystem in Poland also influences New Trends, that keep showing up in the Country. According to the latest Report by Startup Poland, Polish Hardware and IoT Startups are Worth the Attention. Such Companies need more Time for Development, Prototyping, and Perfecting the Products, but it doesn't mean they won't create Significant Revenues. Global Brands like GoPro and Fitbit are Great Examples.

What puts in a Positive Mood, is the Fact that Polish Startup Support Programmes recognise the Potential of the Native Projects. Startup Platforms, a Programme by the Polish Agency for Enterprise Development, has supported 103 Polish Companies up till December 2017 and contributed about 80 million PLN. The Highest Subsidy could reach 800 000 PLN. Apart from Public Support Institutions, Acceleration and Incubation Programmes within International Corporations also Function. These Entities chose Poland as their Headquarters, among them Startup Collider from PwC or mAccelerator (powered by mBank).

* Contacts above all

The Wolves Summit Conference gathers the Representatives of Many Environments, including Corporations, Investors, and Promising Startups from around the World. 1:1 Meetings are one of the most important Elements of the Event.
